[PUBLIC ACT—No. 160.]

An Act prohibiting the confinement of persons in the Military Service of the United States in the Penitentiary of the District of Columbia except as punishment for certain crimes and to discharge therefrom certain convicts by sentence of Courts martial and for other Purposes.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That hereafter no person in the military service of the United States convicted and sentenced by a court martial shall be punished by confinement in the penitentiary of the District of Columbia unless the offence of which such person may be convicted would by some statute of the United States or at common law as the same exists in the said District subject such convict to said punishment.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That all such persons in the military service as aforesaid who have heretofore been or may hereafter be convicted and sentenced by a court-martial for any offence which, if tried before the criminal court of said District would not subject such person to imprisonment in said penitentiary and who are now or may hereafter be confined therein shall be discharged from said imprisonment upon such terms and conditions of further punishment as the President of the United States may in his discretion impose as a commutation of said sentence.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That upon the application of any citizen of the United States supported by his oath, alleging that a person or persons in the military service as aforesaid are confined in said penitentiary under the sentence of a court-martial for any offence not punishable by imprisonment in the penitentiary by the authorities of the criminal court aforesaid, it shall be the duty of the judge of said court, or in case of the absence or inability of one of the judges of the circuit court of said District, if upon an inspection of the record of proceedings of said court martial he shall find the facts to be as alleged in said application immediately to issue the writ of habeas corpus to bring before him the said convict; and if upon an investigation of the case it shall be the opinion of such judge that the case of such convict is within the provisions of the previous sections of this act he shall order such convict to be confined in the common jail of said District until the decision of the President of the United States as to the commutation aforesaid shall be filed in said court, and then such convict shall be disposed of and suffer such punishment as by said commutation of his said sentence may be imposed.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That no person convicted upon the decision of a court martial shall be confined in any penitentiary of the United States except under the conditions of this act.
Approved, July 16 1862.

[PUBLIC ACT—No. 162.]

An Act to amend an act entitled "An act to amend an act entitled 'An act in addition to the acts prohibiting the slave trade.'"

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That it shall and may be lawful for the President of the United States to enter into arrangements by contract or otherwise with one or more foreign Governments having possessions in the West Indies or other tropical regions or with their duly constituted agent or agents to receive from the United States for a term not exceeding five years at such place or places as shall be agreed upon, all negroes mulattoes or persons of color, delivered from on board vessels seized in the prosecution of the slave trade by commanders of United States armed vessels and to provide them with suitable instruction and with comfortable clothing and shelter, and to employ them at wages under such regulations as shall be agreed upon, for a period not exceeding five years from the date of their being landed at the place or places agreed upon. Provided That the United States incur no expenses on account of said negroes mulattoes, or persons of color after having landed them at the place or places agreed upon. And provided, further, That any arrangement so made as aforesaid may be renewed by the President of the United States, from time to time as may be found necessary or desirable, for periods not exceeding five years on each renewal.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the President of the United States be and he is hereby, authorized to issue instructions to the commanders of the armed vessels of the United States, directing them, whenever it shall be practicable and under rules and regulations as he shall prescribe to proceed directly to such place or places as shall have been agreed upon with any foreign Government or its duly constituted agent or agents, under the provisions of the first section of this act and there deliver to the duly constituted authorities or agents of such foreign Governments all negroes, mulattoes, or persons of color delivered from on board vessels seized in the prosecution of the slave trade afterwards taking the vessel and persons engaged in prosecuting the slave trade to the proper place for trial and adjudication.

THURSDAY MORNING NOV 20 1862

Victoria Holiday—The Victoria papers contain several long accounts [illegible] historical sketches together with the proceedings of a grand celebration [illegible] in that city [illegible] Monday, 10th inst in honor of the birthday and arrival at his majority of H R H Albert Edward, Prince of Wales Duke of Saxony Prince of Saxe Coburg Gotha Duke of Cornwall and Rothsay Earl of Chester, Carrick and Dublin, Baron Renfrew and Lord of the Isles K G and Heir apparent to the throne of England who was born at Buckingham Palace on the 9th November, 1841

The people of that province have in this evinced an honorable and praiseworthy adherence to their home government and devotion to the powers that be, which is the duty of all true and faithful citizens But we notice from the accounts given that an unfortunate occurrence took place, which prevented the participation of all honest and true American citizens residing there in the festivities of the day, namely the hoisting of a secesh flag by a "gentleman boot black," which could not be brooked by the loyal Americans of the place, and which was protested against by the American consul, Mr A Francis

Notwithstanding the fact that a large number, almost the entire population of the American residents of the place are true and loyal to the cause of the American Union, yet the British authorities not only refused to cause the secesh flag to be hauled down but detailed a large police force to protect the traitor and his treasonable rag Another instance of the consistency of British faith and honesty towards the Government of the United States

The Battle of Antietam—The correspondent of the Boston Journal, who furnished by far the best account of the battle of Antietam, writes to that paper a resume of the engagement, and collates from details in the rebel papers He says pointedly

In reviewing the contest, aided by the Southern account, it seems that all through the day complete, decisive, annihilating victory lay within our grasp, and yet we did not take it In saying this I raise no criticism, make no question of blame but prefer to look upon it as a controlling of that Providence which notices the fall of every sparrow The time had not come for complete victory—for annihilation of the rebel army We are not yet over the Red Sea The baptism of blood is not yet complete. The cause of the war is not yet removed—retribution for crime is not yet finished. We must suffer yet again With firmer faith than ever in the ultimate triumph of right, truth and justice, let us accept the fiery ordeal.

The Northerners no Longer of the true American Race—The New York Herald relates the following incident as having happened on board the pirate Alabama, after the capture of the ship Brilliant

When Capt Hager was transferred to the Alabama, and ordered to be put in irons, he remonstrated with Armstrong, the officer seeing the order enforced, in the following language: He said: "It is very singular that you should confine these men in irons and hold me as a close prisoner, when we were born and brought up under the same flag and Government. If I were to meet you in distress on the high seas, or anywhere else, I would not only not treat you in this manner, but would, if you required it, share the last crust of bread with you, if I found you to be in want of it."

To these kind remarks Armstrong replied "We are nothing to each other as countrymen The North and South are now distinct races, with no interests or feelings in common The people of the South are the only true representatives of the American race You of the North have intermarried so much with the lower classes of Europeans that you have, in a great measure if not altogether, lost your nationality, and are not worthy to be considered of the same people as ourselves"

General Burnside—Gen Burnside, who takes General McClellan's place, graduated at West Point in 1847, and was in the Mexican war He was born in Indiana, but went to the war as a Colonel of a Rhode Island regiment, was made Brigadier General on the 6th of August, after the battle of Bull Run, in which he distinguished himself, and has since been made a Major General He has been very successful in all he has undertaken

Postal News—Commissions have been issued to the following Postmasters M Scott, Sandy, Multnomah county, Oregon John T Browning, Claquato, Lewis county, W T Philemon Morris is appointed Postmaster at Sublimity, Marion county Oregon

Sharp shooters—The Rutland Herald mentions a company of Vermont sharpshooters just recruited for Berdan's regiment, and says there is not a man in the crowd that would not hold up a shingle for his next friend to shoot at, at two hundred yards

A dispatch announces the death, in Winchester, Illinois, of the mother of the late Colonel Baker at the age of 83 years

Adah Isaacs Menken, the actress was expected to arrive up the last Panama steamer in San Francisco

Claib Jackson, the rebel Governor of Missouri, is said to be running a saw mill in Texas

The Pirate Semmes.

Capt Hager [illegible] the ship Brilliant of New York which was captured and burned by Semmes [illegible] the rebel privateer "No 290" or Alabama gives the following description of that officer and his manner of capturing prizes

However much Semmes may have had the appearance of a gentleman when an officer of the United States Navy he has entirely [illegible] it now He sports a huge moustache the ends of which are waxed in a manner [illegible] that of Victor Emanuel [illegible] entirely in the [illegible] His steward waxes it every day carefully and [illegible] it is that the [illegible] of the Alabama term him "Old Beeswax" His whole appearance is that of a [illegible] and the transformation appears to be complete from Commander Raphael Semmes U S Navy to the [illegible] of Lafitte Kidd and Gibbs three most notorious pirates the world has ever known

The officers of the Alabama are reported as very [illegible] gentlemen [illegible] plundering a ship they take nothing but articles that suit them If replenishing their stores they invariably [illegible] taking nothing but the best [illegible] With kid gloves it is the same they refuse [illegible] and will have nothing but pure white And so it is with them all the way through [illegible] appropriate everything they find worth having and destroy the rest and are pirates in every sense of the word except that they [illegible] take life—or rather have not yet done so

When Capt Hager left the Alabama there were between 40 and 50 of the crews of the different vessels she had destroyed still on board They were confined below in irons where every drop of rain fell on them and every sea that came aboard the vessel washed over them and the poor fellows are in a terrible plight having lost everything with the vessels they belonged to, the pirates permitting no baggage, except the very smallest quantity, to be brought away from the prizes before they were destroyed They had the satisfaction of knowing however that it would not be long before they would be released for Semmes could not afford to have his ship filled up with prisoners

The plan that Semmes has adopted to bring fish to his net is as follows It will be seen at a glance that the position he was last reported in was in the track of many vessels bound to and from Europe This is the position he has chosen to do the greatest possible amount of destruction, and he certainly has been most successful Whenever he captures a ship, after taking from her all that he and his officers want, he lays by her until dark, and then sets her on fire The light of the burning ship can be seen many miles, and every other ship within seeing distance stands towards the light, thinking to rescue a number of poor fellows from destruction The pirate keeps in the immediate vicinity awaiting the prey that is sure to come, and the next morning the poor fellows who have to serve the cause of humanity gone many miles out of their course find themselves under the guns of the Alabama, with the certainty that before another twenty four hours they will share the fate of the ship they came to serve The plan will enable him to destroy an immense amount of property without much cruising He can lay in one position and gather the ships around him during the night ready for operations on the coming day for weeks to come for it will be a long time before his depredations can be made known so that our unsuspecting merchantmen will be on the lookout for him

Again he will be enabled to cruise for an indefinite length of time, for he uses no coal depending on his canvass entirely which, it seems is all sufficient for his purpose He carries stores for eight months and can always replenish from the prizes he may take He will be here to-day there to morrow and will be certain to be found where no one is looking for him Looking for him will be like "looking for a needle in a hay stack," and with the majority of vessels we have cruising at the present time, should one of them be fortunate enough to see him all we shall benefit thereby will be a look, and so it will continue to be until we have ships of greater speed than we now possess or expect soon to have

Additional Eastern News

New York, Nov 12th—Two Government commission brokers have been sent to Fort Lafayette by order of the War Department for buying up claims at usurious discount

The steamer Pawnee, from Port Royal November 3d reports the arrival there of the frigate Powhattan, from Charleston Preparations for a combined attack on Charleston and Savannah were being gradually matured

A Key West letter reports the capture of the schooners Francis and Tolera, both of Nassau, by the gunboat Sagamore, while attempting to run the blockade

Nashville Nov 11th—Rosecrans and staff arrived last night The enemy are still in considerable force at Murfreesboro', but they are retreating beyond the Tennessee river destroying everything as they retire The country from the Kentucky line to Nashville presents a painfully desolate appearance The forests have been fired along the greater portion of the route Inhabitants, stock and forage are nearly all gone

Washington Nov 12th—A dispatch from the headquarters of the Army of the Potomac reports that a small force of the enemy's cavalry made their appearance on the morning of the 10th at Salem thirteen miles from Warrenton They were hovering in the rear of our Army evidently watching our movements, and intending to cut off transportation of supplies

Our troops are comfortable and in a healthy condition, well clothed, and having ample supplies of food

Thirty of our regular cavalry while on a foraging expedition ten miles south of Warrenton encountered a squad of rebel cavalry completely routing them. Our loss was eight and the rebel loss fourteen. The rebel army is believed to be massed at Culpepper and in the vicinity

The Sikesburg Whig says an extensive secret Abolition society has been discovered in northern Texas The objects are to resist the conscript law, and co operate with the Federal Army

Cairo Nov 12th—An expedition which left Helena Arkansas, a few days since for Cotton Plant Mississippi numbering 1 200 men, has returned They found 3 000 rebels there The force was too large to be attacked by the Federals with any hope of success On their return they had three skirmishes with the rebels killing twelve wounding a large number and capturing twenty four The federals had thirty wounded The people of the country through which our forces passed are represented as suffering terribly for want of the necessaries of life

The Iowa Troops—These troops were this year allowed to vote Those at Corinth cast 261 for the Democratic ticket and 1 407 for the Union ticket The Twenty seventh regiment at St Pauls, Minnesota cast 113 for the Republican Union and 71 for the Democratic The Pennsylvania soldiers last year voted about the same way It is no wonder, in view of these facts, that the Peace stay at home-Democracy gained a few Congressmen in those States where soldiers were not permitted to vote —Bee

Louisville Ky, Nov 14th—Dispatch from Burksville, dated yesterday, says 1,000 rebel cavalry arrived there; they say five thousand more are on their way to re enforce them It is reported at Nashville that a fight took place at Lebanon, Ky, on Tuesday with John Morgan's men, and that seven guerrillas were killed and a hundred and twenty-five captured, with a number of horses The rest fled, and our cavalry pursued

White's Patent Lever Trusses—These instruments are recommended to the public as the best ever yet invented The principle is new and different from any other The Pad works over a Knuckle giving it a circular INWARD and UPWARD motion thus being able to support the rupture with half the pressure required by other Trusses The pain consequent upon heavy pressure is thereby avoided

These instruments will not rust, and are the lightest most durable and most cleanly of all others They can be washed at pleasure. Many persons have been cured by them of ruptures of several years standing

3 STATES PAPERS FOR 25 CENTS, at
CHARLES BARRE[illegible]

The Daily Oregonian.

CITY.

The MORNING OREGONIAN has a larger SUBSCRIPTION LIST than any other Daily published in this City.

CITY COUNCIL—Met last evening all the members present

Petition of residents of North First and "C" streets relative to lamp post read and laid on the table

Petition from Willamette Fire Engine Co No 1 relative to purchase of Engine for Protection Engine Co No. 4 referred to Committee on Fire and Water Second petition from Protection Engine Co, relative to same subject, read and referred to the same committee

Report of Committee on Ways and Means relative to the probable expenses of the city for the next fiscal year, which we will publish to-morrow

An Ordinance for the levying and collection of taxes read first time.

Report of Committee on Fire and Water, relative to the completion of Engine House No. 1, submitting specifications for the same, and resolution instructing the Chief Engineer and Committee to advertise for bids

Motion carried to erect a lamp post at the corner of Pine and Third streets

An ordinance relative to purchasing the west half and east half of lots 5 and 6 block 38 for Engine House No 3 provide the same does not exceed the sum of $1 600 read first and second time and laid over

Resolution of committee on fire and water, relative to completion of Engine House No 1, called up

Motion to adopt the resolution was carried which throws this much contended question back to its original position by instructing the Committee to again advertise for bids for the completion of this house

Council adjourned for want of a quorum

CIRCUIT COURT—The petition of Mrs Mary Cline for a divorce from her husband, Jacob Cline, was granted by the Court yesterday

Matthew Kieth, two indictments for selling liquor on Sunday, plead guilty, and fined the sum of $20 and costs

Several cases were continued Cases set for to-day.—P Welsh vs N Staggs, W C Wilson vs James Brown, Joel Palmer vs Mathew Kieth There is yet considerable business upon the docket, though it is probable the Court will get through with jury cases by the end of the present week

NOT THE MAN—We notice that the Times of yesterday morning gives the name of the man who died suddenly the night previous at the Arlington House, as Mr Thomas Wood. This is a mistake, for we saw Mr Thomas Wood last evening on the street and he never looked more healthy, and he assured us that he was not dead, nor had no notion of dying until his time comes, the assertion of the Times to the contrary notwithstanding The name of the man who did die was N W Thomas.

SUNDAY LAW—The first case of the enforcement of the Sunday law relative to vending liquor on Sunday occurred yesterday in the Circuit Court, now in session We are [illegible] that grave doubts exist among our legal fraternity relative to the constitutionality and binding effect of the law as it appears on the Statutes, hence the nominal fine imposed by the Court in the case referred to—there are other cases of similar violations of this law which have been reported by the Grand Jury and will probably be tried at the present term, in which these legal objections will be discussed and decided upon

ENLARGED.—The British Colonist, published at Victoria, comes to us considerably enlarged and from the number of "ads," etc we judge not its proprietors and publishers are doing a good business provided, they [illegible] cotemporary to contend with, [illegible] the prices down to nought

[illegible] ASYLUM—Gov Gibbs, and Dr Gh[illegible] physician to the "Oregon Insane [illegible]" made an official visit to that institution yesterday, and after a thorough inspection expressed themselves satisfied with its [illegible] arrangement by its enterprising proprietors. The wards are somewhat crowded but the new addition, now nearly completed, will afford ample accommodations for all

TACK HAMMERS.—We were shown yesterday by our friend E J Northrup a magnetic tack hammer of recent invention, which needs only to be tried to be approved by those engaged in driving tacks

Notice the advertisement of Messrs, Bruce & West. They offer to supply ship timber on [illegible] terms

Read advertisement of Smith s Hotel and Restaurant, at the Dalles

HOW THE PENNSYLVANIA FIGHTING MEN VOTE.—In 1861 the Pennsylvania troops were authorized to vote, and Commissioners were sent to their camps to take the vote This vote is re-published in the Philadelphia Press of October 11th, 1862, and stands Republican 11,351, Democrats, 3,173, or three fourths of all the votes cast were given to the Republican Union ticket The vote is given by counties, and the number of companies from each, and strange to say, every county even old Berks and Bucks are overwhelmingly for the Republican Union ticket

QUEEN VICTORIA—The abdication of Queen Victoria is again seriously talked of abroad The Patrie says that the discussion of the measure with her German relations is the cause of the Queen's visit to Germany The act of abdication—of course, in favor of the Prince of Wales—will, it is said take place next Spring, immediately after the marriage of the Prince with the Princess Alexandra of Denmark

Consumption can be cured—A fair trial of Dr WM HALL S BALSAM will convince the most skeptical sufferer that this medicine has no equal in the world for the cure of the different stages of this dreadful disease. Every CONSUMPTIVE ought to read the certificates of remarkable cures and know its value

FIELD'S STEAMED OYSTERS!

MR. A. FIELD, whose Oysters have long enjoyed the high est reputation in this market has recently invented an entirely new process of putting up, which possesses every advantage over the one hitherto employed It so preserves the natural flavor, freshness and shape of the Oyster that they may be either Stewed Fried Scolloped or Fancy Roasted—in fact cooked in any manner adapted to those just taken from the shell They will not be broken into pieces by land travel however lengthy, and will retain their sweetness after the can is cut, longer than secured by any other method

Shipments arrived and for sale by all the Grocery Jobbers in San Francisco

Dec 18 186[illegible] dtf CHARLES BARRETT

The Maiden and the War.

Orpheus C. Kerr is a poet, as the following stanzas from his latest effusion abundantly prove:

It was a Sergeant old and gray,
Well singed and bronzed from siege and pillage,
Went tramping in an army's wake,
Along the turnpike of the village.

For days and nights the winding host
Had through the little place been marching,
And ever loud the rustics cheered,
Till ev'ry throat was hoarse and parching.

The Squire and Farmer, maid and dame,
All took the sight's electric stirring,
And hats were waved and staves were sung,
And kerchiefs white were countless whirring.

They only saw a gallant show
Of heroes stalwart under banners,
And in the fierce heroic glow,
'Twas theirs to yield but wild hosannahs.

The Sergeant heard the shrill hurrahs,
Where he behind in step was keeping,
But glancing down beside the road
He saw a little maid sit weeping.

"And how is this?" he gruffly said,
A moment pausing to regard her—
"Why weepest thou my little chit?"
And then she only cried the harder.

"And how is this, my little chit?"
The sturdy trooper straight repeated,
"When all the village cheers us on,
That you, in tears, apart are seated?"

"We march two hundred thousand strong!
And that's a sight, my baby beauty,
To quicken silence into song,
And glorify the soldier's duty."

"It's very, very grand, I know,"
The little maid gave soft replying;
"And Father, Mother, Brother too
All say, 'Hurrah' while I am crying;

"But think—O Mr. Soldier, think,
How many little sisters' brothers
Are going all away to fight
And may be killed, as well as others!"

"Why bless thee, child," the Sergeant said,
His brawny hand her curls caressing,
"'Tis left for little ones like you
To find that War's not all a blessing."

And "Bless thee!" once again he cried;
Then cleared his throat and looked indignant,
And marched away with wrinkled brow
To stop the struggling tear benignant.

And still the ringing shouts went up
From doorway, thatch and fields of tillage;
The pall behind the standard seen
By one alone of all the village.

The oak and cedar bend and writhe
When roars the wind through gap and braken;
But 'tis the tenderest reed of all
That trembles first when Earth is shaken.

An English Ship Burned in a Spanish Port.—On the 8th of October the merchant ship Blanche, Captain Smith, carrying the British flag, was burned on the coast of Cuba six miles north of Moro Castle, by the United States gunboat Montgomery. The particulars are given as follows:

The Blanche was formerly engaged in the trade between New Orleans and Cuba, but was sold since the war to an English house. On her way from Matamoras to Cuba, she stopped at Molata to take in coal. She then sailed for Havana with a Spanish pilot on board. When near that place and off Mariana, she saw at a distance an American ship running towards her with all speed. The ship proved to be the gunboat Montgomery, Capt. Hunter. The captain of the Blanche became alarmed, and instead of waiting for her, attempted to escape. The Montgomery continued her pursuit, compelled her to wear around, and ran her ashore six miles north of Moro Castle. The Alcade, who had watched her movements from the shore, took a boat, and with two or three other men went on board the Blanche, on which he hoisted the Spanish flag, as a sign that she was under the protection of the Spanish Government. At the same time Captain Hunter, of the Montgomery, ordered two boats with armed men to go on board the Blanche, and to take forcible possession of the vessel. Once on board, the officer in command explained to Capt. Smith and to the Alcade what his mission was, and told them that he had received orders to carry the Blanche away, if possible; if not, to set fire to her and to burn her cargo. Captain Smith and the Spanish official having protested against such proceedings, a quarrel ensued, in which the officer of the Montgomery slapped the Alcade in the face, and with the aid of his men drove him ashore, together with the three Spaniards who were with him. After this they came back, set fire to the ship, and carried away the Cuban pilot who had been taken by Capt. Mariana.

Cheap Barometer.—An Eastern agricultural paper gives the following simple method for extemporizing a barometer, and says it may be depended on for accuracy: "Get a common pickle jar, or any wide-mouthed bottle; fill it with water to within two or three inches of the top; plunge the neck of an empty Florence oil-flask into the bottle. Before rain, the water will rise two or three inches in the neck of the inverted flask—often in three or four hours. If the weather is settled for fair, the water will remain not more than half an inch high, for days, in the neck of the flask. It never fails to foretell rain. It may stand in or out of doors, in sun or shade, and the water never needs changing so long as it can be seen through. The oil-flask must be cleansed before the neck is plunged in water. Soda and warm water will clear it of oil."

Bishop Polk Makes a Narrow Escape.—The Grenada Appeal of October 18th has an account of the Perryville fight, and pronounces it a Confederate victory of course. It says the rebel loss was 1,500, and the force engaged, 12,000. Major General Polk had a narrow escape. Becoming confused, he rode up to a body of troops, supposed to have been rebels, and seizing the Colonel, roughly demanded why he was firing upon his friends. The Colonel responded that he was not. Polk demanded his name. "Colonel of the — Indiana," was the response. After administering a rebuke, Polk galloped away in safety, convinced of his error. A mistake of like character cost General Zollicoffer his life at Mill Springs.

A Disappointment.—When Ibrahim Pacha visited the Bank of England, some years ago, he seemed somewhat disgusted with the governor. That gentleman put a roll of notes into the Pacha's hands and told him their value was £1,000,000 sterling. His highness, with a chuckle, was about to consign them to the pocket of his capacious trowsers, when the governor made a snatch at them, and put them into the drawer again; the Pacha very naturally thought them a buckshessh, or present. The interpreter failed in pacifying his master, who made a remark in the Egyptian vernacular, equivalent to the English sentiment, that "it was a scaly trick."

And Vice Versa—"Well, sir, the rebels are upon our soil, now!" said a lukewarm Pennsylvanian to our Philadelphia contributor. "They are!" exclaimed our P. C. sternly, "and before long, our soil will be upon the rebels!" The L. P. having thus got his full 'change" departed.

Of Age—"Mankind have called the various great Eras of History by such names as the "Golden Age," "Iron Age," "Brazen Age," etc., continued the Philosophic Barkeeper, "I wonder what they will call the present age." "Probably, the Post Age," answered the Judge, handing him a ten cent "currency note."

How near akin laughter is to tears was shown when Rubens, with a single stroke of his brush, turned a laughing child in a painting to one crying; and our mothers, without being painters, have often brought us, in like manner, from joy to grief by a single stroke.

[From the Oregon Farmer.]

Slow but Sure.

Farmers sometimes become discontented with their avocation, when they compare it with others. They will observe the tradesman suddenly rising to opulence, the physical ease of the professional gentleman, the ever well filled purse of the mechanic, and then turn to their own blank wallet and life of toil, and bemoan their fate and curse their avocation.

Casting but such a brief glance one would be most likely to coincide with them. But let that glance be extended. Changes and convulsions will surely come. No generation ever lived on the face of the earth but what has had its day of adversity and gloom. Business is stagnated and almost destroyed.

The mechanic who, whilom earned his money with such ease, spent it as quickly, not expecting this sudden misfortune, and is found in the evil day beseeching for employment and bread. The tradesman, who deemed himself the lord of thousands, now finds himself a beggar; but the farmer, with his broad acres and his flocks and herds, still is, in a measure, blessed with affluence and plenty. Changes may come, the ware houses may be closed and vacated, the wharf may be lined with rotting and idle shipping, and those who have depended on commerce now are outcasts and beggars; but during all these convulsions the elements are still kind, and seed time and harvest return in their appointed seasons and giving to the yeoman, who was erstwhile bemoaning his fate, his full supply of the bounties of the field.

And in the piping time of peace, when the sound of labor is heard alike in the field and the workshop, in country and city, and business in every department is prospering, the farmer even then has an advantage. For when the mechanic ceases his labors his profits cease, and a slight accident may at once stop his income; but the farmer, if deprived for a season of his health, suffers no such loss; for while in sleep or sickness, his profits still go on. His flocks are continually increasing in value, and his fields are bringing forth their bounteous harvests for his enrichment.

The farmer's gains are slow but sure, and they, above all other classes of people, are in advanced age truly affluent and independent. And when the farmer has the faith in his avocation which his judgment and the experience of the past should give him, and labors on with patience and contentment, he can above all others enjoy true and lasting happiness.

Origin of the Word California.—The North Pacific Review accounts for it thus: The old missionaries found that the Indians used sweating-baths, built something like a lime-kiln, whence they emerged and plunged into the river. "In Spanish these were called "horno calientes," for hot ovens; the letters h and f being at that time convertible. "forno caliente" resulted, and was at length corrupted to "California."

OREGON
State Insane and Idiotic Asylum

DRS. HAWTHORNE & LORYEA,
Physicians and Proprietors.

In pursuance of a law passed by the present Legislative Assembly, the Oregon State Insane and Idiotic Asylum is located in East Portland, in this county, Drs. Hawthorne & Loryea, Physicians and Proprietors.

The Proprietors of the above Establishment will immediately make additions to their present buildings, in order to offer accommodations to all who are unfortunate enough to need the care and treatment of an Insane or Idiotic Asylum.

It is especially requested on the part of County Judges, guardians and friends of this class of patients, to have them immediately conveyed to the Asylum, so that they may be properly cared for before the inclement weather sets in.

THE INDIGENT WILL BE SUPPORTED AT THE EXPENSE OF THE STATE, and no record of debt made against them. For further particulars apply to
Drs. HAWTHORNE & LORYEA,
Physicians of the Oregon State Insane and Idiotic Asylum.

Portland, Multnomah Co., Oct 10, 1862.

DR. BAKER'S
PAIN PANACEA.

Is composed entirely of healing gums, and vegetable oil and herbs. It is perfectly safe for the most delicate to use. I can most sincerely say that I have never known any however delicate to be injured by it in the least. I will continue to ask the afflicted, who have not used it, to try it for the following diseases: If they are not satisfied with its healing properties the money will be cheerfully returned by the agent where the medicine is for sale.

If you have pain in the stomach or bowels, try a dose of Pain Panacea internally, bathe externally over the parts affected, and you will at once restore the proper action and relieve the pain.

If you have a Bruise or Wound, bathe it well with the Pain Panacea four times a day. It will relieve the pain, and take out all the poison, and heal the wound in a short time.

If you are suffering from Neuralgia or Rheumatic Pains, apply the Pain Panacea freely, and take a dose of it internally, morning, noon and night; it will not only cure the pain, but will remove the cause of the disease.

If you have the Dyspepsia, and your food distresses your stomach after eating, take a dose of Pain Panacea after each meal.

If you have a Cankered or Sore Mouth or Throat, apply the Pain Panacea, to the affected parts, and gargle the mouth or throat three or four times a day.

If you have the Diarrhoea, or a relaxed state of the bowels, take a dose of Pain Panacea, and they will soon be restored. If you have a painful swelling, bathe the parts freely and you will soon relieve pain, and the swelling will be reduced.

If you have a severe tooth-ache, apply the Pain Panacea on a piece of cotton and bathe gum at the same time; it will stop the pain instantly.

If you have a pain in the Breast, Side, Back or Kidneys, bathe parts affected morning and night; at the same time take a dose of the Panacea internally.

If a Mother has a caked breast, apply the Panacea as hot as it can be borne.

If you feel chilly or cold, as though you were going to have a fever, take a dose of Panacea.

If you have a wound, cut, or gall upon your horse, apply the Pain Panacea; it will take out all the inflammation and heal the sore in a short time.
